Details

The "Shneider Electric Marathon de Paris" was founded in 1977, at the height of the trend for major international marathons. With the appeal of the city of Love and the richness of architectural excellence, Paris hosts one of the biggest and most popular events in Europe.

I Run the Globe can secure your spot in this wonderful marathon. The Paris Marathon is now one of the largest marathons in the world, both in terms of field size and runner performance. Each finisher takes home precious experiences. Nearly 145 nationalities and 55,000 runners compete in one of the most prestigious long-distance events.

This race takes place throughout the French Capital. Starting on the Champs Elysées, and going through the Bois de Vincennes, and Boulogne, the race offers an unparalleled backdrop, with breathtaking scenery and landmarks along the way.

Run through the most important avenues in Paris. The path runs from the Arc de Triomphe's base to the Place de la Concorde. Before reaching the Avenue Foch finish line, you will pass through some green space in the Bois de Vincennes, which is another viewpoint of the Eiffel Tower. Every year, an increasing number of people flock to this one-of-a-kind and spectacular scene. Over 23,000 international runners now compete in this marathon, accounting for 40% of the field.
